

BY SILENCE DOGOOD

There are very few places like the current day Patchogue River. Five lively restaurants, ample ferries to explore Fire Island, several marinas & ports that date back to the days of the local native Americans, and all those unique businesses that make the Patchogue River what she is today.

The deep nautical history and natural beauty, pale in comparison to the smiling faces on children on a sailboat or couples celebrating at a restaurant. All of us reading this article now sometimes take this for granted, but the fact is that many if not most Americans never get to enjoy the quality of life and the salty air that we are blessed to enjoy every day. It sounds cliché, but it is absolutely true. Each of the stops along the Patchogue River is as different as the fingerprints of their employees. If it's a romantic dinner, we have just what you need. If it's live music and dancing,

Well we have that too. Looking for a Water Taxi ride or a ride on the paddle-boat? How about a ride over to beautiful Fire Island? Well, it's all available right here on the Patchogue River. As we celebrate the birth of our nation, and enjoy another summer on the water, let's all keep in mind how lucky we are to live on the South Shore of Long Island. And better yet, how blessed we are to be able to enjoy the summer life that is available to all of us in and around the new nautical, mile known as the mighty Patchogue River!

Throughout the rest of the summer and right through the fall I hope you will get out there and live life in the fast lane. Get down to these restaurants or get over to Fire Island with your friends and family and celebrate life on the Patchogue River.

Until then, all of us hospitality legends wish you cold beer & warm winds until the next high tide on the Patchogue River. ■

It is with great pleasure that I introduce you to this year's honoree for our 19 th Kris Kringle Golf Tournament & Event ... Fr. Kevin Smith.

The very first year we had the idea of having a staff party, and each employee bringing their family, throwing money in a hat and gifting it to a family that has been knocked off the tracks, Fr Kevin has been front & center . The first phone call I made on that very first year was to Fr Kevin Smith. At that time father Kevin was the pastor at Saint Francis church in Patchogue.. He was so excited because he had been praying for a miracle for one of the families within his parish. When I explained to him that we're not really talking about life changing money, he just said, "Anything will help and never underestimate the power of Christmas love" . Boy was he right !

Father Kevin has made several moves from parish to parish since that first year. Currently he is between our Lady of The Snow in Bluepoint & simultaneously back helping Saint Francis Parish in Patchogue. For 19 years, he has been on our committee and spent tireless hours, making sure that each Kris Kringle season is a success.. Fr Kevin often cites Kris Kringle in his December mass schedule as an example of Love in Action , what a group of kind people can accomplish & he quotes our Kris Kringle Motto " You get what you give in Life".

To know Kevin is to Love Kevin. He's a great listener over a cold beer. He's Real, Honest , hardworking & kind. He is never judgmental. Time with Fr Kevin is time well spent because you will look at things a little differently & truly know "what is & Is Not important."

Heres to our Jolly & Cheerful leader of the band -Fr. Kevin Smith !

As we embrace our 19 th Kringle Season please spread the love & our mission.. " You get what you give in life"

SKIPPER'S JOURNAL

CAPTAINS LOG: 08.08.23

This is the second version of hospitality, legends, newspaper. I think the word newspaper might be overstating at this point? It's more like a fun look at the behind the scenes of all types of hospitality businesses centralized around the Patchogue River. which is code for "It's a bunch of bullshit with pictures of crazy people, and some made up stories." The biggest challenge so far has been getting very busy people like owners and managers to stop for five minutes and tell us what's going on at their venue . People in the hospitality business usually don't have time to breathe in the summer... So they're not about to start taking pictures and writing poetry!

That said , I hope you enjoy the second edition of the hospitality legend. It's filled with semi true stories, pictures of our regulars, and our staff up and down the river, a few advertisements to tell you what is happening for the rest of the summer and autumn. The Patchogue River is the new nautical mile.... Its is our other Main St . But for Salty types who know how to work hard & play hard . We would love to hear from you about the Hospitality Legend & ideas or pictures from past or future events . After all, a life worth living is worth documenting. In 20 or 30 years, there will be all new people, and they will look back at the hospitality legend, and say. "man those crazy bastards sure look like they had fun !"

Until the next time -
May the wind fill your Sails & The River Fill your Summers!

RIVER GOSSIP & LIES

TRUE OR FALSE?

The Dublin Deck staff was hired by MGM studios to promote the "Barbie" movie ?

False. They were hired, but it was not MGM lol.

Self explanatory!

False. He is big booty Steve because he has a big giant butt!

Harbor Crab is now doing monthly "bring your pet to work day" and Mike Stephani brought his goats?

True. Mike's always been a little bit different. As usual Michele is left picking up after Mike.

Life success coach Fred Ford lost over 100Lbs. In less than a year to prove " if you can imagine it- you can do it!"

100% True. Fred Ford who is featured inside the Hospitality legend, recently had an epiphany and is currently finishing his novel "think and grow thin." Fred is often seen at all of the riverfront restaurants. Now he might order a salad instead of a rare steak and a Grand Marnier.

Joe from Reeses was recently voted Patchogue's nicest and kindest man of 2023?

Joe was nominated, but the voting is not yet complete. Send us your nominee or vote for one of the following....

- A- Joe Pine (Reese's)
- B- Ken Becker (Leeward Cove)
- C- Zach from Paddle Pub
- D- Joe Mangi , Dublin Deck Mngr

THE LIVING'S EASY

THE ADVENTURES OF A DUBLIN DECK PALM TREE

BY MICHAELA MEDECK

My family told me I was about to experience the dream that all Palm Trees wished for, I would be leaving home. Most Palm Trees go to resorts, and some to restaurants. I soon found out that I would be going to the latter. I hoped I would be going somewhere warm, but as I traveled through each state I knew that was unfortunately not the case.

Now I stand in the middle of this place called Dublin Deck, well not exactly in the middle but I'm still able to see everything. During the day many people come to eat. Some are families, friend groups, couples, and even parties. The food always smells so good that I almost wish I was human so I could taste it.

However, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights are my favorite. DJs and live bands play all kinds of songs and I can't help but ruffle my leaves to the beat. Later into the night, the crowd grows and it gets even louder. Mostly I see people dancing, taking selfies, and ordering drinks at the bars. As people walk by I feel drops of liquid that do not taste like water. The flavors vary sweet, bitter, strong, fruity, and often carbonated. I think the carbonated ones are called a "High Night" or "High Moon" or something like that.

As the summer season at Dublin Deck comes to a close I'm happy the gang at Dublin Deck chose me for this Palm Tree Adventure. Now onto the next one...wherever that may be.

PS: Check out the cool lights I'm wearing! It's my favorite color too! ■

Frank's FORECAST

Suffice it to say that Frank is about as good at predicting the weather as anybody on TV! They all stink . This was supposed to be a summer like last year according to Frank and the weather just did not seem to cooperate as predicted.

“Don’t shoot the messenger” is all that Frank had to say, but he stands by his future forecast, which is the following...

“Developing high-pressure systems coming off the Rocky Mountains ever since the balloon was shot down, has opened the sky for sunshine and day-dreams from Labor Day until the Harbor Crab annual Bass tournament on Columbus Day”...said our resident meteorologist. “It seems every year that the weather is a 10 in September and October but people don’t take advantage of the gorgeous Patchogue Riverfront weather after the calendar says Labor Day for some reason? I can say almost without a doubt or somewhere around a 5% chance the sun will still be coming up in the east every morning, followed by daylight, with eventual melting into darkness and moonlight. That’s about the best I can predict for the second addition of Frank’s forecast. I will tell you that if you visit us, call the Patchogue River via boat. You will be met with sunshine and happiness! I can guarantee that October 2 will be absolutely stunning weather for the Kris Kringle golf tournament at the Bellport Country Club... That one is a lock” finished Mr Mills .

If anybody out there is looking for a job and does not have any particular talent whatsoever, perhaps being a weatherman in the United States of America, is exactly the job for you !!

THE WEST SIDE STORY!

THE REAL PATCHOGUE LEGENDS PART TWO

In the last issue, we went down the east side of the river, talking about some of the great men and women over the years who have helped carve the culture of the Patchogue River, and beyond. In the second edition of the Hospitality legend, we will continue talking about those same pioneers. Family names like Volkman, Underwood, Sherman, Weeks, Rose, and even the new generation like the new owners of those same marinas & restaurants on the River. It's easy to see busy marinas & restaurants and say "that's a no brainer...who wouldn't buy that given the chance ?" But 30-40 years ago many of those same businesses struggled to survive. Marinas were filled with dilapidated cabin cruisers & clamboats often couldn't pay for repairs & abandoned them.

The current day Harbor Crab was previously owned by Howard Rexton. Howard and Chris Adams operated Steamers, Bonners Ferry, The sports Bar & A&R Clam. Next door was a rooming house once owned by Clare Rose. It is believed that Clare's sons were born in that building. Most recently, the Lanza family owned that building before recently selling it and taking it down for safety reasons. Following the River Bank to the west is The Volkman property which was the original home of BluePoint Brewery, Al's Outboard Repair & several other businesses. For what seems like 100 years Charlie Balsamo Had a boat repair business and one of the only operations that could haul big ole wooden boats & schooners of any size with old school ingenuity. Next to Volkman is west Bank marina where the current day Baja Boatyard recently bought The Off Key Tiki bar & restaurant. Not too far up the River is Weeks Marina. An entire book could be written about this century old, family owned boatyard. The Weeks family has blessed the Patchogue River with some of the best craftsmen on classic wooden motor & sailboats in the country. The Weeks family is solely responsible for keeping the art of Ice Boating alive in the northeast. Its hard to find anything but the classiest adjectives to describe this century old Family Business!

In the next episode we'll discuss Pier 66, which is the current day, Leeward Cove Marina, and home of the Dublin Deck. And then we will continue further down the west bank of The Patchogue River.

We are grateful to these legendary families, who took a leap of faith Wayback when & help to make This River what it is today. ■

OUR DAILY FRED

THE GOOD WORD FROM OUR DAILY FRED

BY FRED FORD

With summer right around the corner and the holiday pounds packed on, many people are employing a destined to fail weight-loss strategy: DIET! Getting healthy and/or losing weight is NOT dependent on one thing. To think otherwise is to set yourself up for failure—which is precisely why diets fail. There is a consequence to everything you think, feel, say, and do. If you are committed to a goal, you need to re-commit every day and persist in the face of constant temptations to quit. And you are at least THREE TIMES as likely to succeed with a group as opposed to trying to do it yourself.

In March 2021, I created a group coaching program titled Think and Grow Thin that I put myself through. The side-by-side before and after photos of me and my wife tell the story. If you are ready to change your life and FINALLY discover the path to sustainable weight-loss and your ideal weight, let's talk! You can reach me at fred@ourdailymfred.net or 631-286-6078. The time to Think and Grow Thin is NOW! ■

THE GRUMPY DELI OWNER

DELI GUY SAYS "NO PALM FOR YOU!"

You all know him ... The grumpy deli owner at Atlantic Ave Deli. Although many thought & often wished the owner was Dave; the taller, nicer & dare I say better looking employee. But unfortunately No, he's not . Dave is just an overworked & underpaid and verbally abused employee that the real owner , Scott Miller pictured above , feels he can degrade because they've been friends for 30 years. Anyway, upon first meeting Scott, im sure he'll fool you as he does to most of us. The Seinfeld sense of humor. ..Uncanny ability to remember your name & your order. Although the memory seems to disappear if you have a house account at Atlantic !

Mark- "Scott, what do you mean $818.50 ? In a week? "

Scott- " Yes , That is Correct!" In his stupid Dr Vonostrom from The Clinic Voice .

Mark -"Whats in this " Newman" sandwich on here?"

Scott - " you oughta know ... you had 4 this week ! Pastrami & other stuff..."

Mark- " well , that wasn't mine then !"

Scott - " whys that ?"

Mark - " Cause I'm Allergic to pastrami..."

Scott- " Thats pretty stupid- why do you keep ordering it then ?"

Mark- " ok fine . Whatever . Ill pay it ... but how did you wind up with our Palm Tree out there? "

Scott- "what are you ? Paul Bunyan of the Palm Tree community?"

Me- "we'll im missing one of our Adonidia Merrill Trees... (Christmas Palms for Laymen terms ...) and all of s sudden one appears outside your deli along with 37 pastrami's on my tab!"

Scott- "where do you get the Ego to think this is your tree ? In all the tropics, the islands, the local bars ... are you the palm King ? You got some set of Balls accusing me of padding your tab & now heisting your Palm Tree from the southwest corner of your parking lot last Tuesday !"

Mark- "Dave ? Tell the truth!"

Dave - "yea he took it ... took another one for his pool too !!"

So people .. yea their food is good . Its actually great as far as Deli food goes . They can be funny at times . Barbara makes a mean Roast Beef club & she makes us laugh ... but hold on to your belongings when you visit The Atlantic Ave Deli ... oh yea.. And Pizza apparently? Stop by , say hello , dine outside & take a picture by Dublin Decks stolen palm tree ! Have a " Newman" on my tab. But be careful cause the owner Scott will steal your wallet & then help you look for it !

Truly Yours,
Yelper #711 B vs. Atlantic Ave Deli (And Pizza)

PS- whats with the 15 min parking or were gonna tow you? And he says this with a straight face & those socks or stockings up to his knee caps . ? Go ahead & Tow it Seinfeld Boy ... ■

"MAN DOWN" FUNDRAISER

MAN DOWN... BUT NOT OUT!

Recently, I was reminded about how awesome our community is, and especially friends of the hospitality industry in this area. After one of our local hospitality legends, who shall remain nameless, incurred a series of bad breaks; the owners of the Harbor Crab restaurant got together with some of the local owners, chefs, managers, waitresses and bartenders and put together an amazing "Man Down" fundraiser at The Crab . "Im just blown away how this community around The Patchogue River helps one another," said Michele Lamartina who is a manager at the Harbor Crab. "Tonight was for a dear friend. Who has owned and worked in over 10 restaurants in Patchogue throughout his career. When he got sidelined with some serious health situations and was unable to work for the past five months because he was in the hospital... my bosses and his friends knew exactly what to do. It's really, really special to be a part of this and knowing that he will be financially free for a little while so he can concentrate on getting stronger.,À Continued Lamartina. Here's a few pictures of the generous friends around the river, came to support their friend . The spirit of love and teamwork is still alive and kicking on the Patchogue mile.!

SPORTS LEGENDS

RON'S EYE ON SPORTS

Check out these local Stars who are killing it either in high school, college or in local town leagues...
Most of them work right here on the river during the summer... No Surprise they are Rockstars at work as well !!

What would we do without sports?

Think about that. Did you ever think what life would be like without sports? In our last hospitality, legends issue we told you about the money employees up and down the River who are now playing division, one sports in college. Not everybody has the talent and good fortune and discipline to be lucky enough to play at such a high level, but even if you're just a fan of a sports team or you recently got into pickle ball or corn hole (if corn hole is really a sport) .. could you imagine life in the United States without sports? Going all the way back to the local native Indians here on Long Island, The Pau-manok Tribe, sports and fitness competitions would determine who was the warrior and the leader of the tribe. The Olympics dating all the way back to the Roman era, and now our sports heroes are making gazillions of dollars doing what they love. But whether you are just a fan, or a sailor, a jogger, a sports fanatic, who loves to wager and create fantasy league super teams... whatever your thing is try to imagine life without sports? I cant .

After a 12 hour shift at Dublin Deck cooking for hundreds of people, I have to stop at the park on the way home and play a few hours of hoops in order to wind down. I love watching my son and other employees from Dublin Deck in high school sports and now in college sports.. we all love to dream and imagine that Aaron Rodgers will now save the Jets or that Aaron Judge coming back healthy will propel the Yankees into the playoffs. But the point is that sports provides the excitement and competition that makes life exciting.

I have found throughout my years managing at Dublin Deck, that athletes often make the best employees because they understand teamwork, loyalty, hard work, paying off towards a common goal, and athletes often can critique themselves without you having to say a word.

As football season is about to get underway, and we all get excited for our team, spend a few minutes being grateful that we live in a country that allows us to pursue our favorite sport either for pleasure, or even for a career ! After all... "What would life be like without sports??"

Did you know that John Crowley is turning 40 this year? I think he looks pretty good.

Did you know that the guy on the left to no longer be Santa because he lost too much weight? And the guy in the back is this year's honoree and man of the year for the Kris Kringle season father Kevin Smith. And did you know that Coach Nichols on the right, together with his family, is the driving force behind the Kris Kringle effort every year.

Did you know that Brandon Grogan is in the process of completing his culinary education and working at the Harbor Crab?

Did you know that Scottie and Theo started in the hospitality business when they were about 12 years old? And did you know that about the same time? Frank Mills pictured on the right was on his second tour as a navy seal?

Did you know that the name Patchogue come from the Algonquin Indians? Comes from "Pachaug" which means a place separated by two streams.

Did you know that Weeks Marina, here in Patchogue, has roots going back centuries and that Kevin & Brian Weeks were extremely involved in keeping "Ice Boating" relevant over the past few decades !

Did you know that the recently opened Buoy 35? Was the first location of the present day "Cull House" in Sayville.? after that it was the Anchor Inn, the Blue Point, Oyster Factory, JT's on the Bay and is currently Bouy 35.

Did you know that Helene Ali, our latest and greatest manager at Dublin Deck was the previous owner of 78, foster restaurant and bar located at Tully's Fish market in Hampton Bays? That's why she is so good at what she does... give me someone who can raise children and run their own restaurant any day of the week!

Mark, Frank, Scottie & Kenny invite & encourage you to send us as many memories from the past 100 years of eating drinking, dancing, boating, clamming, fishing or just laughing each and every summer on the Patchogue River!

After all, it's an unbelievable place to visit or to call home.

For any potential stories, photos etc. that you would like to be featured in future issues please email them to:
